

Hi, and welcome to your 2021 Southern Hemisphere planner with our gorgeous new design. I hope you're going to love it! Take the time to READ THESE TIPS before you hit print...

Inside the 2021 planner

This downloadable planner has everything you could possibly need to plan, track and evaluate your family's home school life and learning journey.

- What's new this year?

In the 2021 planner, we've kept all the page templates you know and love, and updated them with our boldest colour palette yet. Additions to the planner include a new set of home organisation templates, excursion and regular class lists, extra section divider categories, and goal tracker templates specifically for parents, as well as 'stickers' & bookmarks.

- Flexibility to mix & match

Every homeschooling family's needs are different, so I've designed many key templates with multiple layout options, to suit ages K-12.

- Downloading

You'll see a LOT of files in this planner download - don't panic and definitely DON'T print every page! Simply scan through the files in Adobe PDF viewer and decide which pages you'll use and which cover and section cover pages you prefer.

* Tip! Use our handy print checklist to help you plan which pages to print.

- Calendars from January - December 2021

There are monthly calendars for the Jan - Dec school year, as well as an annual overview for 2021.

- Printing and displaying

All the files are in high resolution PDF format for professional print quality. The pages are designed with extra margin on the left for punch holes. I recommend you use a 2 or 3 ring binder to store your pages, and print cover and section pages on a thicker card (120-200gsm).

Phew! now that's done and dusted, time to get planning! I'd love to see how you use these printables - share your insta pics #themulberryplanner
