

Notes on the weekly record pages

Use these templates to plan and record learning that occurs spontaneously and based on curriculum throughout each term.

There are 4 different layout options for each week.

You don't need to print all the pages in this file, just the ones that suit your style of learning.

We have included 11 weeks to cover each term, but if you live in a jurisdiction where you have more than 11 weeks, use our blank templates (first 4 pages below) to mark the weeks as you like.

Re-print as needed each term/season.

Ideas on how to use
Homeschoolers + unschoolers

Week

TERM:
YEAR: 2022

// PLAN

LEARNING FOCUS THIS WEEK:

Could be for seasonal or important dates/events on the calendar. Eg. Olympics, Earth Hour, Harmony Day, Winter Solstice, R U OK day

QUESTIONS + IDEAS TO EXPLORE:

This is a great section to use for the kid's questions you may have leftover from previous week, burning questions they ask right before bedtime, dinnertime or car ride conversations that sparked more questions, or any other moments where a question is asked you want to use for interest-led learning later on.

BOOKS, FILMS, DOCUMENTARIES:

Keep a list of 'to watch' or recommendations from friends using our Lists templates, and add topical ideas here. You can also go through your bookshelf on Sunday night and note down any books or films you think may fit in this week, or you don't want to forget.

ACTIVITIES + PROVOCATIONS:

Depending on whether you follow a curriculum, unschool or something in between, this box is a good place to note down any activities, online resources / websites, provocations or invitations to play you may like to use this week. There's nothing more annoying than spending $$$ on a virtual or physical resource only to have it forgotten in the back of the cupboard or lost in a folder on your computer. So note it down here. :)

RESOURCES NEEDED:

If you're using a curriculum or planning a lesson with a particular set of resources (ie. science equipment, baking ingredients, math manipulatives, art supplies), note those down here.

You also could note general resources your kids use every week for interest-led learning: eg. Nature Journals, craft supplies, laptop, headphones, yoga mat, sketch pad.
